

Long ago, people called pilgrims, left their house in England and crossed the ocean
on a ship called Mayflower.

It was the autumn of the year 1620
when the pilgrims came to America.
The first winter was very hard.
They were cold and hungry.

Native Americans gave them food and clothes and help the pilgrims to build their houses, to plant and grow the seeds of corn that had brought, to hunt
the animals that they could eat.

When autumn came
the corn was ripe
and the pilgrims had a plenty harvest.

Nowadays, people in the U.S.A.
have a Thanksgiving Day.
It's on the last Thursday
in November.
On this day people go to visit their families and have traditional dinner together.

At the end of the harvest they made a great feast to celebrate and to thank the Indians
for their help.
They eat turkey, corn
and pumpkins.
This was the First Thanksgiving Day.
